1. An evaluation has been performed of the contractor's proposal for an including estimated cost and fixed fee ( of estimated cost). original quote approximating was revised downward to the amount during initial technical/contract negotiations. Therefore, due to the significant condensation of estimated cost, the evaluation was limited to a review of the labor, overhead and other rates used by in estimating their proposal.

2. The auditor's comments follow:

a. Labor man-day rates are the currently approved bid rates. Labor hours have been significantly reduced.

b. Material is considered acceptable as the auditor feels that any excesses in estimated costs have been eliminated in the prior significant reductions.

c. Overhead, IME, IR&D, and G&A are accepted as the currently approved bid rates. The of material is half the currently approved rate of . Based on the foregoing, the current estimated cost proposal of is recommended for acceptance. The fixed fee rate of is deferred to the contracting officer for his consideration.

Dear Bill and Art:

In accordance with my telephone conversation with Art on 27 July 1964 I am enclosing a copy of [ ] I understand that you will decide who will handle this from an audit standpoint.

The first proposal came in at about [ ] dollars. At a first meeting in [ ] a week ago the company was informed that this was entirely beyond the scope of anything envisioned and accordingly certain reductions were made in the work to be performed and the Contractor re-submitted at [ ] (CPFF). At a meeting in [ ] last week further reductions were made in the material breakout as indicated by the revised figures. As a result it would appear that we are now talking about a total estimated cost of [ ] plus fixed fee.

In view of the rather substantial compression of the work scope there is probably not much more that can be done in terms of negotiating this downward any further but that remains to be seen. In any event would certainly appreciate an analysis of the cost breakdown with particular reference to overhead rates and any other areas that you would like to get into. The breakout of costs does not give labor rates so this is an area that can be checked out as well.

[ ] will be closed until 10 August 1964. During this time no productive work will be done on the program but we could perhaps use this time to finalize the quote. [ ] is waiting for a call from me indicating the amount of money which he must allocate for this job. It is my intention to call [ ] and attempt to come to some general agreement as a basis for authorizing the company to proceed subject to negotiation of the costs.

We have a peculiar security situation in that only [ ] and [ ] will be aware of the customer. As soon as a clearance can be obtained we will also brief [ ] Head of the Finance and Accounting part of the organization. Accordingly if anyone from Headquarters plans to check out the audit through [ ] the security factors should be kept in mind. [ ] is aware of this situation. All of the engineering staff at [ ] assume that this is a contract with [ ] and this is the approach which we will take at least through the initial stage of the work. So to re-emphasize only [ ] will be aware of the customers identity. At the present time even [ ] is not aware of this fact and we plan to have [ ] alert him to this fact.

After you have had a chance to look at the proposal perhaps you could give me a call to discuss any further approach to this proposed contract.

Sincerely,

Art

P.S. The work involves application of known principles; however, there is an extremely tight delivery schedule and the technical representatives have indicated that they need maximum flexibility because of the urgency of the project and its overall sensitivity. For this reason I think we may attempt a CPIF contract basis with the incentive on meeting the delivery date.

Dear Jim:

Your memo of 13 November 1964 has been received with the signed copies of Amendment No. 1 together with the other materials you forwarded.

I am sending in the invoice and payment should be forthcoming in the immediate future. With respect to paragraph 5b of your memo, I agree that the reference to Part VII should be Part VI. Would you just make that correction on your copy of the amendment and I will do the same with the original and the remaining copies.

Your interpretation of Part II, "Delivery", is correct as stated in paragraph 5a of your memo of 13 November.

Very truly yours,

As you will remember Rod clearly advised [ ] that work in the plant would be DOD Secret. Apparently [ ] misinterpreted this when passing on instructions to [ ] Rod will contact [ ] today to straighten this out.
